WHAT'S HOT!

FOR GOOD MEASURE

New York City lighting firm Apparatus looked to the triangles and cones of trigonometry for its playful series of Triad hanging fixtures. Triad 9, made of solid brass, is offered in four finishes, including aged brass, shown; a version with white porcelain bulb holders is also available. The 44" dia. x 33" h. fixture comes with a made-to-measure cord and costs $5,400. 646-527-9732; apparatusstudio.com

SURFACE APPEAL

Legendary Italian designer Piero Fornasetti brought his love of the surreal—and an enthusiasm for classical forms—to everything he created. His convex Collier mirror, with a brass frame, has been newly reissued in the United States. It measures 12" dia. and is $2,450. 888-222-7609; barneys.com

SEAWORTHY

John Derian's collaboration with French accessories firm Astier de Villatte includes the Red Seaweed platter, with the New York designer's signature antique imagery—in this case, an 18th-century illustration—emblazoned on glazed earthenware. Handmade in Paris, the platter measures 17" l. x 11.5" w. and costs $231. 212-677-3917; johnlderian.com

ALL IN THE GAME

RS Barcelona, a Spanish company known for bringing irrepressible style to game-room furniture, introduces its You and Me ping-pong table. The piece features a hidden drawer and legs made of iroko wood. The 108" l. x 60" h. x 30" w. table can be used outdoors and is $4,000. 800-944-2233; designwithinreach.com

TRUE COLORS
